GREECE WILL NOT DISARM RESERVE OFFICERS CALLED ALLIED FORCES MAY ACT

CRISIS BROUGHT ABOUT IN ATHENS THROUGH ACTION

Refusal to Disarm Comes on the Last Day of Time Limit in Ultimatum Presented by Du Fournet

GREECE SEEMS PREPARED

French Admiral Intimates He Will Carry Through Scheme with Aid of the Allied Armies

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A wireless dispatch from Athens asserts that a detachment of allied troops has been disembarked by Vice Admiral Du Fournet at Piraeus, the port of Athens.

ATHENS, Dec. 1.—King Constantine and the Greek government on Friday formally advised Admiral Du Fournet that Greece had finally and definitely determined to refuse to surrender her arms as demanded by the allies.

The government on Friday called to the colors all reserve officers belonging to the Athens army corps.

Crisis Brought About
LONDON, Dec. 1.—Flat refusal of Greece to the disarmament demanded on behalf of the allies by Admiral Du Fournet brought about a crisis in the Greek situation.

The refusal came on last day of the time limit set by the French naval commander in his ultimatum demanding that surrender of arms and munitions of war be made before December 1.

Dispatches from the Greek capital Friday said Admiral Du Fournet, interpreting the refusal because of announcements during the last few days that the crown council and the cabinet had both determined on this course, was preparing to land allied troops at Piraeus, the port of Athens.

The Greek government apparently is preparing for active resistance, having ousted French officers detailed in charge of postoffice and telegraph stations.

Admiral Du Fournet was quoted in special dispatches as determined to carry through the disarmament scheme with the weight of the allied armies at his command.

A slight outbreak of rioting on the streets of Athens, with the firing of several shots, apparently without casualties, was reported in an Evening News dispatch from the Greek capital.

Quiet was restored.

Admiral Fournet is expected to land strong detachments of allied forces to watch the allies' transport there.

The Chalais garrison, in light marching order, is marching toward Schimatari. Other forces are reported marching southward from Thessaly and Phthiotis.

Premier Lambros issued a statement Friday stating that the government "as an interpreter of the desires of the king and the army," asks the people of Greece to show their wisdom and sang froid in order to avoid all provocation in the present crisis and prevent any aggravation of the situation.

WARNINGS FOR DIVERS RENEWED

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 1.—Foreign shipping on Friday steered far out of the regular steamship lane off the Nantucket shoals lightship. The wireless warnings all through the night, ceasing only at daybreak, renewed reports of two German fighting submarines believed to be near the Atlantic coast.

BODY BROUGHT HOME

WAUSAU, Wis., Dec. 1.—The body of Emil Robert Muelver, who died at the naval training station at New York, was brought here for burial, the services being conducted Friday afternoon.

CARPATHIAN DRIVE OF RUSS SUCCEEDS SAYS PETROGRAD

All War Offices Agree Slaves Are Moving Armies to Check Advance of Germans Into Wallachia

ADVANCE IS UNSTAYED

Falkenhayn and Mackensen Press Steadily Forward; Bucharest Rapidly Becoming a War Camp

PETROGRAD, Dec. 1.—The Russian offensive in the Carpathians southward of Kirlibaba is proceeding with success. The war office statement declared that the czar's forces in this sector had occupied the whole range and the heights surrounding this city recently wrested from the Germans by the Russians at the start of the offensive.

The Carpathians offensive is patiently designed to relieve the pressure of German troops on Bucharest.

*****
BERLIN, via Saville
Wireless, Dec. 1.—The sepiculchers of the Rumanian king fell into German hands at the conquest of Curtea De Arges.

The German emperor ordered that the tombs be put under special protection of the troops and that in the march through the city wreaths should be deposited on the sepulchers.

*****
By a thrust on the German lines of communication, Berlin statements for the last two days have indicated an offensive in this section by the czar's troops.

*****
VIENNA Reports Russ Efforts
VIENNA, Dec. 1.—Using great masses of troops, the Russians are making almost constant attacks to relieve the much harassed Rumanian armies. The war office statement Friday declared the armies of General Arz and Koevess along almost the entire front were struggling day and night in bitter fighting, at many places in hand-to-hand struggles.

"Slight local successes," the statement concluded, "cannot alter the fact that the enemy's sacrifices have been in vain. The battle continues."

Says Russ Drive Continues
BERLIN, via Wireless to Saville, L. I., Dec. 1.—Continuation of the heavy Russian offensive between the Uz valley and the Tartar pass, was announced in Thursday's Austro-Hungarian official report, received here Friday.

Report Big Captures
Field Marshal von Mackensen's army continues its progress northward from the Danube toward Bucharest and is approaching the course of the Argus river.

The official statement, detailing this continued advance, gave figures of big captures of prisoners and booty by the Teutonic forces now enveloping the Rumanian capital.

Teutonic troops pursuing Rumanian forces cut off by Field Marshal von Mackensen Thursday, took more than 300 prisoners. The official statement declared that the Rumanian forces, cut off from the main army, were seeking to escape "their inevitable fate" by changing the direction of their retreat.

"Besides enormous losses yesterday the Rumanians lost more than 2,500 prisoners, 21 cannon, among which there were three mortars. These figures do not include the captures reported in yesterday's statement."

Continued attacks on the army of Archduke Joseph in the Carpathians by Russians and Rumanians were part of a violent assault on the passes on a front of three hundred kilometers, the official report declared.

"This waste of blood and ammunition," the statement asserted, "at practically no place brought the enemy any advantage."

"Our troops made numerous counter assaults and captured from the enemy many prisoners."

GERMANY READY TO MAKE AMENDS IF GUILT IS PROVED

Indemnity, Apology and Punishment of Commander of U-boat Which Sank Marina Hangs on Contingency

EXPECT GUILT ADMISSION

Points in Reply and Visit of Bernstorff Similar to Circumstances in the Sussex Case

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Germany stands ready to pay indemnity for American lives lost in the torpedoing of the steamer Marina, to offer an apology for the incident and to punish the submarine commander responsible, if it develops that the vessel was sunk unjustly.

This offer was doubly conveyed to the state department Friday, in Germany's formal reply to American inquiries on the Marina sinking and during a confidential visit between Secretary of State Lansing and Ambassador von Bernstorff.

Germany's answer said that her information about the destruction of the vessel with loss of six American lives was incomplete and inconclusive and the ambassador requested that this government give Germany any further facts as to the case.

Everything about the German reply and the Bernstorff visit pointed to an admission of guilt later for the circumstances surrounding the answer are very similar to the circumstances surrounding the Sussex case when American facts showed that beyond doubt the vessel was a German submarine victim, and Germany ultimately accepted that version.

Bernstorff's visit, made at his own solicitation, was solely to discuss the Marina case and there was no reference to settlement of the Lusitania matter or other problems between the two nations.

Germany's contention in the Marina case is that the Marina had been engaged as a horse transport in the British admiralty service, though evidently the admiralty character had been removed before the torpedoing.

Germany contends that her previous admiralty service tended to palliate, at least, the sinking.

Affidavits at the state department from Marina survivors tend to show rather conclusively that the Marina was sunk without warning.

GREEK FOREIGN MINISTER LEAVES LAMBROS CABINET

ATHENS, Dec. 1.—The war minister, General Dracos, resigned from the Lambros ministry Thursday, giving ill-health as an excuse. General Hatzopoulos succeeded him.

This is the second change in the Greek cabinet within a week. The minister of justice, Constantine Andonopoulos, resigned about six days ago. Dispatches from Greece have not indicated who took his place.

M. Lambros succeeded in forming the present cabinet on October 14. It was the fourth in as many months.

DRINKS FOR CENT

MADISON, Wis.—There is a place in this town where a man can get all he wants to drink for a cent.

It's at Hiram Smith Hall—the dairy building—where a huge tank has been installed in the corridor. Every day about 150 thirsty individuals drop a cent in a slot and get a paper cup which they can fill with buttermilk from the tank as many times as they can drink.

BREAD WAR ON IN FRISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 1.—San Francisco was in the midst of a bread war Friday, with large bakeries and manufacturers lined up on one side and John M. Colbert, Mission street grocer, and several hundred customers, lined up on the other.

Colbert was selling bread at four cents a loaf, two cents under the present retail price. All big bakeries except one, Colbert says, have cut off his supply of bread.

BANKER-SLAYER GETS LIFE

WACO, Tex., Dec. 1.—T. R. Watson, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank, at Teague, Texas, who shot and killed Banking Commissioner Patterson several weeks ago, just after Patterson had posted a notice closing the bank, was convicted Friday and sentenced to ninety-nine years imprisonment.

COUNCIL DEBATE ON CAR LINES IS OPENED FRIDAY

Location of New Lines Ordered by Rail Commission Comes Before Committee

CONTRIVERSY EXPECTED

Pine Street and West Avenue Proposals to Be Attacked, May Last All Winter

First guns of the council controversy over the location of new street railway lines will be fired Friday night, at a committee meeting called by Alderman John Schneeberger, chairman of the ordinance committee.

The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock in the council chamber, and the public is invited to attend and express its views on the situation.

Two Other Ordinances
The meeting will also hear discussions of the new broad weight ordinance, concerning which there has been much controversy, and the proposed anti-parking ordinance, which is intended to prevent automobile congestion of the business district.

Although no decision is expected to be reached at Friday night's meeting, a vigorous discussion is looked for. It is probable, however, that the matter will be laid over without recommendation at this time, since a number of aldermen much interested in the street car situation will be unable to be present.

Attorneys for the city and the street car company, however, are expected to get their views before the council at the meeting, and it is believed that the gathering will fix the alignment of a street car controversy that will probably last most of the winter.

In Commission's Form
The street car ordinance as it will come before the committee contains just the recommendations made by the state railroad commission in its order of a few months ago, re-routing the local service. It contemplates re-location of the Myrick Park line, running west on Pine street to Eighth, and south on Eighth to Main street. It also includes turning the Market street line south to Farnam street on West Avenue south.

Upon these two locations there has been considerable protest. The city is opposed to the Pine street location, because Pine street has been newly paved, and is held to be too narrow for a car-track. Residents of West Avenue South have presented a petition in which they demand that their street be not chosen as a route for the Market street line. It has been suggested that the line go south on Eleventh street, but this has met with opposition from the St. Francis hospital, which objects to having the noise of a car line on a second side.

In view of the different opinions on the subject, and the fact that construction cannot be started until next spring, it is believed the street car controversy will be held open until late in the winter.

FORCES TO STRIKE IF OPPORTUNITY OF RIGHT KIND ARISES

Officials Do Not Believe, However, That Bandit Leader Will Expose Himself by Moving on Juarez

FIRMER POLICY COMING

Such Policy, It Is Hinted, Will Be Enforced if First Chief Is Unable to Cope with Situation

BY CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Original orders to General Pershing to "get Villa" still stand, the war department officially stated Friday.

Officials said, however, that conditions are so altered since Pershing's expedition started into Mexico, that he would await fresh orders from Washington before making any move. On the other hand, if opportunity offered, he would strike a quick blow at Villa.

Army men said this would have to be a good opportunity, such as possible establishment of Villa's headquarters in Juarez. They added that, if Villa pushed "his hand into a lion's mouth the mouth will certainly shut."

Experts were inclined to think Villa is too crafty to follow up his apparent Chihuahua success by starting toward Juarez, which would take him only fifty or sixty miles east of Pershing's forces.

The army censor has only rumors about Chihuahua situation and as these are entirely unsupported and contained no more information than press reports, they are withheld.

It is known that the Carranzista garrison at Juarez, however, is uneasy over possibilities.

Officials said very frankly that the northern Mexican situation is such that a serious situation confronts Carranza and if the blow falls, will radically affect future Mexican developments.

Mexican affairs were believed to be behind plans for a conference Friday between Secretary of War Baker and the president.

This meeting was scheduled to supplant the usual cabinet session.

A firmer policy toward Mexico, if Carranza fails to deal adequately with vexing problems, is the present administration plan, the United Press learned.

Such a policy, authorities hinted, may be put into effect shortly if the first chief is unable to cope with the Villa movement in northern Mexico. At any rate it will be inaugurated providing Carranza does not see to it that American demands for internal changes are met.

These demands look for a higher respect for American rights and property; and while the administration hopes that it will come through agreement, officials still must be convinced that this happy solution will result.

In short, the policy will be to allow Mexico sufficient opportunity to "put her house in order" without American interference, but with American "help."

SHOTS HEARD SOUTH OF CITY AND MANY PEOPLE FLEE OVER RIO GRANDE

CHINESE REPORT COUNTRYMEN SLAIN AND HOPE FOR SIX AMERICANS FADE

BY WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 1.—On Tuesday morning, after his capture of Chihuahua City, Villa began slaughtering the Chinese residents of the city, four refugees arriving here Friday told United States authorities.

More than fifty Chinese had been killed when they escaped, they said. One Chinese refugee said that of one party of twenty-seven of his countrymen he was the only one to escape. Three other refugees were the only survivors of a second party of thirty-five.

With these reports of wanton slaughter, little hope is entertained for the safety of six Americans known to have been in Chihuahua City.

THEATER BURGLAR
JIMMIES OFFICE
GETS IN AND OUT

Only Thing Left for Him Was a Silver Dollar and He Overlooked That

FINDS SAFE DOOR OPEN

Only Emptiness Greeted the Prowler When He Tackles the Strong-box

An industrious burglar before whose imagination a crowded house at the La Crosse Theater Thanksgiving night, jimmied his way into the box office early Friday morning and tackled the safe. What did he get?

He got in.
He got out.
Overlooked Lone Dollar
He might have had a silver dollar for his pains, because one cart-wheel had been overlooked when Manager F. L. Koppelberger removed the night's receipts to a place of safety, but the disappointed daredevil forgot to examine the cash drawer. The night-prowler found the safe door hospitably open to welcome him, and emptiness on the other side. Manager F. L. Koppelberger had learned the lesson of the safe-blowing at the Majestic theater a few months ago, and the takings of "Princess Pat" left with him when he locked up the house.

The burglar entered by slitting the screen of the ladies' retiring room on the south side of the building. It was a small hole, which leads to the belief that he was a small burglar. Otherwise the police are without a clue.

Jimmies Unlocked Window
His further progress after entering was marked by chisel-gouges upon a window opening from the box office into the foyer, which the yegg had jimmied up in the approved fashion—not that it was locked. He had also tried the edge of his chisel upon the strong box inside the unlocked safe, but that defied his efforts. There was nothing in it, however, to reward him had he opened it. Several drawers in the safe were found empty in the morning, but that was the way the burglar had found them.

28 HUNTERS LOSE
LIVES AFTER DEER
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 1.—A toll of 28 lives was the price paid by Wisconsin and Michigan hunters in the twenty days deer hunting season which closed Thursday's night, according to figures compiled Friday. Of the 28 victims, ten met death in northern Wisconsin and 18 in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. Wisconsin's deer hunting fatalities in 1915 were five. Carelessness in hunters mistaking other hunters for deer was responsible for the fatalities.

LOCATION OF BAND OF AMERICANS IS WORK OF OFFICIALS

Refugees Declare Americans Were Not Allowed to Leave on Fourth Train Leaving Chihuahua

NEW ARMY IS MASSES

Carranzistas Using Every Energy Toward Gathering Reinforcements to Retake Chihuahua

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 1.—Shortly before daybreak Friday firing began about four miles south of Juarez. About fifty shots were heard on the American side of the border, but all efforts of United States authorities to learn the cause were unavailing.

Native residents of Juarez believed the city had already been attacked by Villa and several families ran to the American side of the international bridge in panic. A heavy detachment of de facto cavalry was hurried out toward the race track from the Cuartel.

The only information available at present on the firing was obtained from Carranza officers, who said that several volleys were fired by nervous outposts.

United States military authorities here thought the de facto troops outposts had sighted a roving band of Villistas, known to be hovering south and east of Juarez.

Demoralized and without guns, which had been thrown away in their hasty flight from Chihuahua City, several hundred more Carranzista survivors of the five day battle in the northern capital reached here at 3 o'clock Friday morning. Part of the incoming soldiers were cavalrymen who, in the rout, had lost their horses.

Every secret service agent of the United States government was ordered on Friday to "find out what became of the Americans and other foreigners in Chihuahua City," and the federal authorities made another request to the Mexican consulate for aid. Although scores of native and foreign refugees have been questioned, the only scrap of news obtained was from persons on the fourth train leaving the capital in the retreat. They declared they saw Geo. Brittingham and several other Americans standing beside the track, but that they were not allowed to leave on that train. They were expected to catch the next train out.

Every energy of the Mexican de facto government leaders was directed on Friday toward gathering reinforcements from the north and south to hurl against Villa in Chihuahua City.

*****
A new army to retake the city is being massed at Juarez. Stragglers from the remnants of General Trevino's command are still streaming to the border in a demoralized condition.

STOCKHOLM IS VARIEGATED CITY ON EDGE OF WAR

BY WM. PHILIP SIMMS

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 9. — (By Mail.)

—This is the New Eldorado. This is the New Paris. Some call it "The Venice of the North," but it is just Stockholm, today the most cosmopolitan city in the world, with a character entirely its own.

Enough champagne is drunk here nightly to float a battleship. Enough money is spent daily to ransom a king. The drinkers are the peoples of all nations and the spenders are not confined to any race nor any climate.

Incidentally the American legation here is one of the busiest doing business anywhere under the star-spangled banner. Minister Ira Nelson Morris of Chicago, needs to keep up a full head of steam day and night to clear the work pouring into his office. The affairs of Austria, Germany, Turkey, Bulgaria, Russia and Roumania are cleared through the legation at Stockholm. It is here that much of the work of exchanging prisoners between Russia and Germany is conducted. It is here, too, that Russian money for the relief of prisoners in Germany is handled and vice versa. In a few months Germany has turned over to the legation over 20,000,000 rubles for German prisoners in Russia.

Then there are the letters to open, read and answer. As many as 132 letters came from Germany in one day asking for information about prisoners in Russia. Other letters came from Sweden in America, or Americans of Swedish origin asking for information. One man wrote that he had heard that Swedish women were powerfully beautiful and asked the minister to find him a wife to bring to America.

Of course the ministers representing the belligerent countries are not particularly "chummy" with one another. If the British minister wishes to say something to the German minister, for example, it is obvious that he does not call on him and whisper it tenderly into his ear. He requests the American minister to do the thing for him as a rule and the same rule holds good as between most of the other diplomats.

One hears good things about Minister Morris. They say that despite his exceedingly delicate position as diplomatic representative and go-between for so many enemy powers, he has the confidence and the esteem of them all.

Business men from all over the world flock here. As the countries at war do like to have commercial travelers, or any other kind of travelers, passing and out of their territory, Sweden, at the doorway of Russia, Germany, England, Austria and France, has been made headquarters for business men from all over the world. The United States, Canada, Argentina, Denmark, Holland, Spain, Brazil, Chili, China and all the rest. And Stockholm is headquarters for everybody with anything to sell, be it a new invention for killing folks or a patent food calculated to contain nourishment for an entire regiment in one pill box. The idea here in Stockholm is if a business man tries to sell to Russia and Russia doesn't buy, he is not barred from calling on Germany that same afternoon and offering it to her. If she doesn't buy, the agent may continue his rounds without prejudice to himself or his wares. This he could scarcely do anywhere else, even in the United States or Argentina, despite the fact that they are neutrals too, for here he is practically on the field and in direct communication with even the Germans who can week-end here and get back to Berlin to report in a very few hours.

Big business is being done here. The great jewelry establishments—as many and as fine almost as one finds in New York, Chicago, Buenos Ayres or London—are selling as never before and at advanced prices.

Millions seem to be made daily. And the whole city reflects the lovely golden glow of yellow coins. The place seems happy, the happiest I've seen anywhere since the war began, happier even than New York. There is hustle everywhere, but despite it folks here seem to have the art of elegant living down to almost as fine a point as they have in Paris. So as the sun goes down lights blaze in restaurants such as Broadway never dreamed of and corks begin to fly.

Sleek men in wide expanses of shirt front, beautiful women, manicured and coiffed and dolled up; busy waiters, radiant with large tips in prospect, subdued lights the color of candlelight—or old gold or pink; the tinkle of fountains; the throbbing of orchestras which know enough not to play too loudly; flowers; growing palms; seductive perfumes; bank notes of large denominations; laughter, eyes with side-long glances. This is Stockholm.

ANOTHER ADMONITION IS GIVEN SHOPPERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. — It's more blessed to give than to receive—provided you mail early what you give—is the postal paraphrase of the proverb in its perennial admonition to Christmas givers, issued Wednesday.

The postoffice department is especially anxious for early mailing this year, for prosperous America, with bulging pockets, bids fair to tax Uncle Sam's post men to the limit.

"Where is my wandering boy tonight?" At the movies, of course.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or Catarrhal Deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Recent experiments have proved conclusively that Catarrhal Deafness, head noises, etc., were the direct cause of constitutional disease, and that self-sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint and do not, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late by a noted specialist in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dissipate all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated, and which has aroused the belief that deafness was soon to be extinct, is given below in understandable form, so that anyone can treat themselves in their own home at little expense. Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parment (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it 4 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety percent of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh; therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment. Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial.

GIVING THANKS TOGETHER

By CATHERINE CRANMAR

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

"It's a shame not to share this good dinner with someone," said Lydia, who had loved to cook from the days when she baked mud pies in the sun until the nights when she made fudge in a chafing dish. It was partly because of her distaste for boarding house life that she gladly availed herself of a suite in the first one-tenant house erected in her city. Her living room with its tiny fireplace was flanked on one end by a bathroom and a bed closet, and on the other by a complete and compact kitchenette.

On Thanksgiving Day Lydia flitted from room to room singing gay snatches of songs. Her trim little figure was lost in the looseness of a long-sleeved white apron with which her former landlady had endowed her when she set out on this house-keeping venture. Her auburn hair was soft about her flushed face and her blue eyes were bright with enthusiasm as she concocted tempting dishes for her Thanksgiving dinner.

The plump chicken browning in the tiny oven was small, and the quivering mold of cranberry jelly just turned out was small, yet there was much more of each than Lydia alone could eat, healthy and hungry as she was. This thought came to her as she was arranging pieces of toast for asparagus and with the thought came a hospitable longing to share her good dinner with some one else who was healthy and hungry. The girls who were her co-workers in the public library either had homes in the city or had gone to their homes outside the city for a Thanksgiving holiday, and besides them she had made few acquaintances in the city, so she could think of no one to invite.

She reflected that there must be many lonely people in that city who would gladly share with her the dainty meal that was now almost ready to serve. Then she thought of the young man who lived alone in the suite across the hall from hers and of whom she had caught occasional glimpses through his open door as he bent spectacled eyes low over a drawing board. She found herself wondering, as she had several times before, whether her studious neighbor was an artist. She thought he looked too businesslike and practical for that.

Lydia smiled and blushed as she recalled the episode the evening before when he spilled cranberries had crunched under the good-sized feet of this young man, who had come striding from his apartment while she was stooping in the narrow corridor to replace the scattered berries in the paper bag that had turned turtle when she inserted her latchkey. There had been stammered apologies from both, and although the young man had helped to recover the berries, he had re-entered his apartment so abruptly that Lydia was puzzled to know whether he was displeased or embarrassed by the incident.

Just when Lydia's chicken reached the right degree of brownness the young man in the suite across the hall completed the inking of the last lines in the plans he was to enter in

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

the prize competition for a design for a new public building. His deep sigh of satisfied relief at the finished task was followed almost immediately by the thought that he was very hungry. He, too, had a fancy for cooking and had taken the apartment that he might have, in addition to uninterrupted opportunity for study, the privilege of preparing coffee and eggs just to suit his breakfast taste.

A cold, drizzling rain made the outdoors so uninviting that the young man decided to have a broiled bacon sandwich and coffee and cheese at home instead of going out for a lone dinner in a cafe. He opened the door of the icebox and shut it with a slam, for he found that he had no cream, and liked a lot of cream in his coffee. Now a lonely man or a hungry man will frequently go far from conventional. John Parker was both lonely and hungry, his supply of cream was exhausted and the grocery stores were closed for the holidays. Besides, rain was pouring outside and the girl across the hall let tantalizing odors escape her doorway. Suddenly he determined to ask her for cream to go in his coffee.

As he went swinging through his door way he almost collided with Lydia, who stood just outside blushing offering him a tray containing a generous share of her good dinner.

"Bread cast upon the waters," she said, smilingly, "and the cranberries you cast back into the bag have returned to you. I just couldn't bear not to share my Thanksgiving dinner with some one," there was a trembling catch in her voice. "And you seemed to be as alone as I; will you take this?" timidly.

"You are unspeakably kind," said the young man, as he took the tray. "And a wonderful cook besides," inhaling the odor of the tempting food. "I was coming over to ask you for some cream in the chance that you'd be neighborly, but I didn't dream of such neighborliness as this."

Lydia caught the yearning glance in his eyes as he looked through her open doorway at the daintily set table, and as she returned to that table there were tears of gratitude in her own eyes at the thought of having at last shared some of her thanksgiving with another.

As for the young man across the hall, he did some hard thinking as he ate his lonely dinner. The drift of his thinking was discernible afterward in his muttered remarks as he stood with his hands in his pockets and stared out through the rain-rippled window at the reflection of the lights in the shiny wet street below.

"The way to a man's heart may be through his stomach," he said. "I'm not sure of that; but the way to cure a taste for lone living is to try it when you have a neighbor as charming as mine. I'm thankful I tried it, but I'm quite convinced of its folly. And now to convince my neighbor!"

And subsequently he succeeded in convincing her.

PRESIDENTIAL VOTE BILL AT MADISON

A frequent question presented to suffrage workers nowadays concerns the bill providing for presidential suffrage for Wisconsin women, which will be introduced into the legislature this winter. The bill rests upon a part of Section 1, Article 2 of the constitution of the United States, which reads as follows:

"Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in the congress."

In the history of the past 46 legislatures of the several states have selected presidential electors in many different ways. The legislature itself has chosen such electors, it has designated the judge of the supreme court to choose such electors, and it may, if so inclined, direct that both women and men vote for such electors. The situation is exactly the same in all of the states of the Union and it was under this constitutional provision that Illinois women gained their right to vote for the president of the United States.

"Old Time Coffee" has only the coffee taste. It is so thoroughly cleaned before roasting that there can be no foreign taste in the entire process of blending, roasting and packaging it is not touched by human hands. That's one of the reasons why there is more "Old Time Coffee" sold in Wisconsin than any other one brand.

The pressure is low this morning throughout the northern states and adjacent Canadian territory, from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts and relatively high over the gulf, middle and south Atlantic states.

These pressure conditions are attended by generally fair weather, exand Atlantic states and above the second normal throughout the Atlantic states, central and upper Mis-

an old road is replaced, a bulletin tails of construction and its cost in plain untechnical language, describing the surface, the foundation, the methods of mixing materials and the advantages gained by certain innovation introduced.

Three thousand tons of frozen

Africa in 1935, but that amount was

What Fat Folks Should Do To Reduce Weight

Thousands of people suffer from excessive fatness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs, who have tried advertising and food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life as long, fatness and think nothing will make them thin. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered combination of fat-reducing agents has made fat disappear after years of obesity, and it is also unequalled, judging from reports, for reducing fish without weakening the digestive system or impoverishing the blood. This remarkable preparation is composed of Korean and comes in capsule form, fat-reducing and system-building elements of acknowledged fact have been combined in this preparation, which is endorsed by professors everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient. Of Korean should go to reduce flesh and fat even after everything else has failed to bring the desired result. City Korean and Drug Store, 300 Main street, and Columbia Pharmacy, 123 South Fourth street, and other good drug stores everywhere are dispensing this Korean in capsule form in the original sealed laboratory package. Get some today and see for yourself how quickly and harmlessly it works.

FISHERIES
DAY

Perhaps not every one joined in the celebration of National Fisheries Day last week. But the celebration went ahead anyhow, and the movement for giving more publicity to fisheries as an industry and fish as a food is well under way.

The National Association of Fisheries Commissioners is trying to impress upon the public mind the importance of the fisheries to the United States and their significance in respect to the national dietary.

A good many of us are just out of the habit of eating fish regularly. We like it when we have it, but we don't think about getting it from the market. We wait until an occasional fishman comes along with a melodious horn to remind us of that delectable food.

Fisheries day was observed in some localities by lectures in the public schools. In many places housewives' leagues also were interested in the problem and have pledged their organization to co-operate in making fish more popular.

Sword-fish, dog-fish and mussel, long scorned as food, are now rather commonly used. But there are many more varieties of fish, some well known and others the victims of baseless prejudice, that really are nutritious and palatable. The government purposes to do what it can to prevent the economic waste of not utilizing this source of food. It's up to the individual housewife to do her part and to look over the fish possibilities now and then when she is trying to reduce the weekly meat bill.

The central west contributes heavily to the "coarse fish" products now recognized as wholesome and therefore in growing demand. Carp shipped from La Crosse and other river and lake points swell the food supply of New York's east side, and are in general use in other sections. Our dog-fish and buffalo also swell the eastern fish markets, where they help to solve the "high cost of meat" problem. However, coarse fish have of late evidenced a tendency to follow other prices skyward.

NEW BOSSES
FOR CONGRESS

The make-up of the next congress is still uncertain. Neither the republicans nor the democrats seem likely to have a majority. Thus a little group of independents who ordinarily would have no voice whatever in congressional affairs, will hold the balance of power and may dictate the organization of the house of representatives, including the choice of the speaker, and the heads of important committees.

We are likely to see an unwonted display of humility on the part of the usually dictatorial leaders of the big parties, and a corresponding gain in prestige and self-esteem on the part of the once despised socialist, prohibitionist and other irregular members. Independence will be at a premium. And the spectacle of these few nondescripts at the helm will no doubt have a powerful effect in encouraging representatives of the big parties to ignore partisan lines on big public questions.

In fact, it is only by the exercise of independence that the republican and democratic members can preserve the freedom of congress and prevent the handful of professed independents from running everything. If the old parties hang together, they will merely play into the hands of the little balance-of-power group, and we shall have, instead of a majority government, a government controlled by a petty minority of half a dozen men.

Those half-dozen have it in their power to force congress as a whole to take up national problems in a broad, free spirit of patriotism, ignoring partisan advantage and aiming only at the good of the country. May the new congressional bosses use their power wisely, instead of frittering it away in cheap log-rolling for the benefit of themselves and their own districts.

SAVING A BILLION A YEAR

It is estimated by President Vanderlip of the National City bank of New York that the United States loses a round billion dollars a year in strikes. A good deal of that loss falls on employers, through forced idleness of their plants and capital. Still more falls on the employees, through loss of wages.

There is a huge incidental loss suffered by the public. But even if only the two parties immediately involved are considered, the obvious rewards of avoiding strikes are great enough to justify the most earnest and prolonged effort.

The chief obstacle in the way of preventing these costly pauses in production is the determination of the workmen to preserve "the right to strike". That right can never be wholly taken from them, any more than the ultimate "right of revolution" can be taken from a people. But surely it is reasonable to discourage and restrict strikes just as orderly nations discourage and restrict revolutions.

The right of an employer to "lock out" his men must, however, be curtailed at the same time. With industrial combatants forced to submit their case to public arbitration as ordinary litigants do, the workingmen themselves might soon rejoice in the new order of things. To the bad faith shown by employers in past cases of arbitration is due the present hesitancy of workingmen to trust third parties. Mr. Vanderlip, if he wants to save that billion, must begin by recognizing the fact that justification for mutual confidence must be the basis of agreement.

WOULD CONSOLIDATE COMMUNITIES UNDER
HEALTH OFFICER

MADISON, Wis.—Legislation for the improvement of public health administration in Wisconsin will be proposed at the next session of the legislature, to open in January. A measure of chief importance, now under consideration, aims to raise the qualifications and compensation of local health officers. It is proposed to enlarge the health units by permitting the grouping of adjacent communities into health districts, each under the supervision of a well qualified and properly paid public health expert.

This plan is not designed to abolish the local health officer, but will permit adjacent towns and cities to join in the hiring of a competent man in order to secure the most efficient service.

BRADFORD

This little town in the Pennsylvania mountains is the home of the American petroleum industry. Here some fifty years ago, the first great oil boom occurred, and millions of dollars poured into the mountain village quickly became a well built city of several thousand people.

Unlike most boom towns Bradford did not suffer a relapse. It has grown steadily, despite the fact that its wells are nearly dry. For it is now the home of wealthy operators who own wells in other fields; it is a center for the making of oil tools; and other manufacturing industries have grown up there.

But above all, Bradford is a residential city, and an exceptionally pleasant one. There are many families there who made modest fortunes in the days of the oil boom, and whose lives are easy and leisurely. These people are fond of talking about the brave days of Bradford's past, when it was one of the most exciting towns in America, but they are also rather fond of Bradford's present.

The town is famous for its pleasant summer climate being nearly two thousand feet above sea level, and for the fishing and hunting in the surrounding hills. The mountains rise steeply from the very streets, and deer and deer are found in the "Big Woods" half a dozen miles from town.

Tells a Secret

Manufacturer of Famous Medicine
Tells Ingredients, So Public Can Appreciate Pure, Reliable Medicine.

Many people fear to take medicine to check and avert colds, cure coughs, catarrh, etc. This fear is groundless, with all the products of The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio. Not one contains opiates, narcotics or harmful drugs. Mentho-Laxene, for coughs, colds, catarrh and all distress following a cold, is a compound of Wild Cherry, Tolu, Cascara, Grindelia, Mentho Ammonium Chloride, and alcohol sufficient to preserve and keep in solution.

Every ingredient is in concentrated form and the medicine is so strong that only ten-drop doses are to be taken in the "raw" state. But the ideal way is to make into a syrup by emptying a 2½ oz. bottle of Mentho-Laxene into a pint bottle and then fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made by dissolving a pint of sugar in a half pint of boiling water. It is said by thousands that this makes a most effective home treatment for all cold troubles. The manufacturer guarantees it to please or money back. Sold by all good druggists.

OTHER
BUSINESS

By Harriet Lummis Smith
Copyright 1935
The Bobbs-Merrill Company

"And that's where you're right," Mrs. Trotter agreed, with the adaptability that was one of her strong points. "There was Mattie Kendall, now, who kept up her dressmaking after she married Henry Beach. Well, she set out to dress her children on the left-overs, and it went all right while they were little. But Mamie got grasping. After her oldest girl was as long-legged as a colt, she'd send word to her customers and say that they needed another yard and a half or two yards to make their dresses in any kind of style. Of course it got out in time and everybody who wanted sewing done went to a woman in South River. I often say to Bartholomew that honesty's the best policy, even where it looks the other way round."

During the progress of this moral tale, Persis' thoughts had been self-accusing. She reflected that curiosity is not among the seven deadly sins, and that if Mrs. Trotter found in listening at key-holes any compensation for the undeniable hardships of her lot, only a harsh nature would grudge her such solace. Moreover ingrained in Persis' disposition, was the inability to hold a grudge against one who asked her a favor.

"I don't know, Mrs. Trotter, but maybe I've got some white pieces of my own that aren't big enough for anything but baby clothes. I'll look over my piece-bag tomorrow. If there's anything you can use, you'll be welcome."

Mrs. Trotter expressed her appreciation. "With all the sewing I done when Benny was expected, I did think I was pretty well fixed, come what might. I didn't reckon on the twins, you see. And then when little Tom died they laid him out in the embroidered dress I'd counted on for the christening of the lot. Not that I grudged it to him, I added the mother quickly, and sighed.

This had the effect of dissipating Persis' sense of annoyance. "I'm pretty sure I can find you something, Mrs. Trotter. And I'll speak to one or two of my customers. Some of 'em may have things put away that they're not likely to want again."

Mrs. Trotter received the offer with a dignity untainted by servile gratitude. "Me and Bartholomew feel that in raising up a family the size of ours, we're doing the community a service. So we ain't afraid to take a little help when we happen to need it. And by the way, if you should find some of the white pieces you was talking about, maybe you wouldn't mind cutting out the little slips and just stitching 'em up on your machine. The needle of mine's been broke six months, and anyway, something's the matter with the wheels. They won't hardly turn."

"Need oil, probably," commented Persis. She knew she was wasting her breath in making the suggestion. The shiftlessness which left the sewing-machine useless junk in a family of eight was a Trotter characteristic. If Bartholomew could have been an entirely different man, and probably able to support his family. In view of this, Persis felt that she could do no less than add: "To be sure I'll stitch 'em up. 'Twon't take much of any time."

"Now I'm not going to keep you a minute longer. I guess Thomas Hardin don't come here to talk to your brother the whole evening." Mrs. Trotter tinged pleasantly, but with a distinct tinge of patronage, the inevitable superiority of the wedded wife to the woman who has carried her maiden name well through the thirties. And indeed in Mrs. Trotter's estimation, the hardships of matrimonial experience were trivial in comparison with the unspeakable calamity of being an old maid.

After Joel was once fairly launched on the subject of hygiene, it was difficult, as a rule, to introduce another topic of conversation under an hour and a quarter. Persis was almost startled, on her return, to find the two men discussing an alien theme. More surprising still, instead of sulking over the curtailment of the dear privilege of self-dissection, Joel was plainly interested.

"It's one of the games where you can't lose, if you take their word for it," Thomas was explaining to his absorbed listener. "The company begins to pay you interest on your investment just as soon as you hand over the money, six per cent every year up to the time the orchard gets bearing. Then it goes up little by little, and by the tenth year they guarantee you twenty-five per cent. Even that doesn't cover it. They say that orchard owners in the same locality are making as much as a hundred per cent most years. Anybody who could spare a few thousand would be sure of a good income for the rest of his days."

"But there's the off years," objected Joel, a crackle of greed in his high-pitched voice.
"There's not going to be any off years the way those fellows figure. They say that by thinning out the apples when the yield is heavy, they can be sure of a crop every season." Thomas' gaze wandered to Persis who had resumed her seat and taken up her sewing. "We're talking of a chance to put your money where it'll get more than savings bank interest," he said, resolved that Joel should not monopolize every topic of conversation. "The Apple of Eden Investment Company, they call it."

"I heard you say something about twenty-five per cent," returned Persis, sewing placidly. "Most too good to please me."

SAWTAY

Condemning the Real Culprit

Often you will spend intelligence, care, caution and costly ingredients in baking a cake. It will go into the oven promising much. It will come out a soggy mass.

Instead of blaming the animal fat which is probably the cause, you will lay the failure to the ingredients or the recipe.

SAWTAY
100% Pure Butter-of-Nuts

insures a cake, not only light, digestible and wholesome, but the cake at the end of a week will be quite as fresh as the day you made it.

NEWS NOTES—MOVIELAND

It is not generally known that Constance Talmadge, who has been elevated to stardom, is so accomplished a swimmer and high diver that she had the opportunity of being an aquatic champion instead of a screen favorite.

Miss Talmadge is a Brooklyn girl and learned the intricacies of the "trudgeon crawl" and the "jack-knife flip" under the best professional auspices at Brighton Beach. One of the chief reasons why she now finds life so congenial in the Fine-Arts colony, near Los Angeles, is that she is enabled to indulge in year-round bathing.

Although she has not yet celebrated her eighteenth birthday, Constance has appeared in motion pictures during the past two years. Her successful handling of the co-star part with Wilfred Lucas in "The Microscope Mystery" is declared to have justified the faith that her directors have placed in her, and it is reported that a special story is now in process of evolution for Miss Talmadge—a comedy drama that will give her the opportunity to utilize her aquatic prowess before the camera.

Circus Stunts

The days of "stunts" seem to be coming back to the film. In the early days they used to take a "stunt" and write a scenario around it. But the general run of offerings of late has been more of the "play" form.

"The Jockey of Death," an international film release, is particularly representative of the revival of the film stunt. It is replete with the familiar dare-devil circus feats. Mile, Evelyn and M. Auturo, European circus performers, have the leads.

One "stunt" is a slide down a wire cable from the top of a mountain to the bottom without a safeguard of any kind. The hero and heroine, close pressed by pursuers, seize a bundle of faggots, hang it to the cable and—zip! they're gone.

Cockroaches to Star Now

Virginia Pearson, between outdoor scenes, talked to a policeman who thought she was one of the extras. He asked her what she thought of the star, Virginia Pearson. Miss Pearson told him that Virginia was nice enough, "but rather stuck up."

Film fans have been wondering why Seena Owen has been absent from the screen. Miss Owen in private life is Mrs. George Walsh, wife of the Fox director, and a baby daughter has just arrived at the Walsh homestead.

BUILD UP YOUR BLOOD

It is a hopeless task to try to restore your health while your blood is deficient in quantity or quality.

The blood circulates throughout every portion of the body except the hair and nails. It takes the nourishment from the food and distributes it to the various muscles and organs; it takes also any medication that is administered through the mouth. The blood is the only means by which medicine can reach the nerves. If the blood is thin its carrying capacity is lessened because it is the red corpuscles in the blood that carry oxygen and other needed constituents to the various parts of the body.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People increase the red corpuscles in the blood. They enable it to absorb more oxygen, to carry more life and strength to the weakened organs. In any disease in which the patient becomes thin and pale Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be used successfully to combat the anemia and build up the health and strength.

"Building Up the Blood" is a booklet, full of good information. Every mother and every growing girl should have one. It is sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price 50 cents.

To Cure Catarrh You Must Purify Your Blood

Specialists in Catarrh troubles have agreed that it is an infection of the blood. The laboratories of the Swift Specific Co. have proven it. Once you get your blood free from impurities—cleansed of the Catarrhal poisons, to which it is now a prey, because of its unhealthy state—then you will be relieved of Catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, raw sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable bad breath. It was caused, in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with someone who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with Catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy S. S. S. discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is always obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and begin treatment. If you are a long standing case, be sure to write the Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga., for medical advice. It is free. They will tell you how this purely vegetable blood tonic cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean. They will prove to you that thousands of sufferers from Catarrh after consistent treatment with S. S. S. have been freed from the trouble and all its disagreeable features and restored to perfect health and vigor. Don't delay the treatment. Take S. S. S. at once.

FOUR FERRIES TO OPERATE ON RIVER AT M'GREGOR, IA.

M'GREGOR, Iowa.—(Special).—
On the opening of the navigation season next spring four ferries will be in operation between McGregor and North McGregor and Prairie du Chien. The board of commissioners of Crawford county, Wis., has granted ferry licenses to B. C. Rosencrantz and J. F. Barton to run between North McGregor and Prairie du Chien. A third license has been granted Joseph Zimmerman to operate a ferry between Prairie du Chien and McGregor. The license of Captain George Freeman who has for many years run the only ferry between McGregor and Prairie du Chien, does not expire for a year.
His boat, the Rob Roy, has done an enormous business the last season.

Victim of Fall Dies
Henry H. Buckman, who a week ago fell from the roof of his house, breaking a leg and arm, died at the hospital here this morning. He was seventy-six years old and has been a resident of this vicinity most of his life. In the earlier years he had a farm near McGregor. For a long time he has lived alone in town almost as a hermit. He has a brother who lives on a farm west of town.

Sell Wild Geese?
Quite a number of geese have been marketed here this week that have attracted much attention because of their novel appearance.
They have the long necks, general build, together with the markings of wild geese and their sound is almost identical to that of the wild species. It is believed they are a cross of the wild and domestic goose. One of the birds escaped yesterday and journeyed out to the middle of the Mississippi, a feat it is claimed a domestic goose could not have performed.

Local and Personal
In excavating for the deep waterway for Bloody Run at North Mc-Gregor, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St.
Paul company is carrying on the biggest blasting operations that have ever been known in northeastern Iowa.

At present they are preparing blast of four tons of black powder and a ton of dynamite, a total of five tons of explosives. Twelve six inch holes are being drilled to a depth of sixty feet and the charge is to be placed in these. The blast will be set off some time the first of the week.
The men in charge have agreed to let the people of McGregor and North McGregor know the time that they may be on hand to witness the tremendous breaking up of the earth.

The work of rebuilding the Bickel bakery which burned some time ago is nearly completed and the company has resumed baking. The new building in many respects is a great improvement over the old one.
A large barge of oak timber was towed over from Wisconsin this week for use in the axe handle factory here.

Peter Schumacher, who has been a mainder of his years.

BUENOS AIRES MAY ACCEPT AMERICAN AID FOR UTILITIES

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 30.—Minister of Public Works Torello is considering acceptance of financial aid from the United States for a resumption of important public enterprises which the European war has tied up during many months.

The offer, it was understood here,
was made through Dr. Richard P.

ister Torello by the big Argentine banker, Carlos A. Tornquist, as the representative of "strong North American interests," with money which they are willing to invest in completion of such undertakings as the Buenos Aires harbor works and the Argentine state-owned railroads.

FEELS STRONGER THAN IN YEARS

Tanlac Banished Ills and Brought Back Gladness
in Her Life.

RELIEF FROM TORTURE.

Often men and women do not realize the way they are drifting until it is almost too late. They allow a little headache, belching, bad breath, tired feeling when getting up of a morning to gain headway until real danger is present.

Then the only solution is an upbuilding process. A tonic that will tone up the system. Tanlac is the tonic which sets the stomach right.
Most ailments are the result of poor digestion.

The truth of this was brought home recently to Mrs. L. Burrill, 137 W. Cotton street, Fond du Lac, when she told the following story:

"I had stomach worries for years.
My stomach would sour easily. Gas formed pressing and distending my stomach muscles. I felt tired out all of the time. I allowed all of this to run along until I was threatened with a complete breakdown. I could not do my work. I could not sleep. My nerves were in an awful fix.

"But since I took Tanlac I feel stronger and better. My sleep is good.
My appetite has improved. No more worries with my stomach. My nerves do not bother me. I am now strong for Tanlac. It is my friend for life."

Tanlac is a reconstructive tonic, helping nature to gain back the lost ground. It puts pure blood in the body, thereby driving out all the impurities that threaten.

Tanlac can be obtained here only from C. A. Begun's Drug Store, where the Tanlac man is located.

Tanlac can also be obtained from Geo. H. Seidel at Sparta, G. C. Groezinger at Bangor.

ommend it—apply a little as directed ness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise

BANDIT CAPTURED AFTER HOLD-UP OF ROONEY LUNCHROOM

Henry Rooney, restaurateur, left for Winona at noon Friday to reclaim $45.15, the loot taken by the Winona police from a hold-up man who had kidnapped the Henry & Frank Dairy Lunch in the up-river town early Friday morning and was later captured after a fight near Homer. The stick-up man previously had escaped capture by gun play when a Winona policeman caught him just as he left the restaurant.

The bandit entered the lunch room at 1 a. m., while several persons were lurching in the restaurant. He sauntered up to the serving counter, and when Jack Hoffman, night manager, turned to him shoved a big gun across the counter into Hoffman's stomach.

"Turn the cash register around and open it up," ordered the bandit, gently. Hoffman obeyed, and the bandit helped himself to the contents. Then he walked out and joined a man on the outside. Together they ran down the street, with Hoffman at their heels. A policeman joined the chase, and overhauled the men. He grappled the lookout, who surrendered. The bandit drew his gun again, halted the officer and disappeared around the corner.

An hour later the Winona police heard that he had started south along the Milwaukee railroad tracks. In an automobile, two officers dashed down the river road and ambushed themselves near Homer. When the bandit hove in sight, counting ties, they leaped at him. He pulled his weapon again, and was about to shoot when one of the officers dropped him with a blow from his "sap."

At the Winona station $45.15 and a few pennies were found on him.

FULL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN GERARD IN GERMAN AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Full instructions for handling different problems affecting the United States and Germany were given Ambassador Gerard Wednesday by President Wilson and Secretary Lansing.

The ambassador spent an hour with the president before taking the train for New York at five o'clock.

It is believed the instructions included a written memorandum on the submarine and Belgian deportations questions, although the ambassador declined to discuss the matter. He said he would sail December fifth as planned, but intimated that settling up business affairs might possibly delay him.

LOCATION OF BAND OF AMERICANS IS WORK OF OFFICERS

vent fruition of this agreement, is the big problem with officials. They are yet unwilling to pass on the importance of Villa's apparent successes.

Trevino Fought Stubbornly
From refugees arriving here vivid stories of the Chihuahua City battle have been obtained. All credit General Trevino with making a stubborn stand, but the furious rushes and the superior strategy of the Villistas were down the resistance of the defenders whose defeat and rout were complete.

Last reports placed General Trevino with the remnants of his forces near Adams, northeast of Chihuahua City, and heading toward the Big Bend district of Texas.

No estimate of the losses in the five days' battle can be obtained from any source. Incoming refugees declared the number of killed ran into the hundreds on both sides.

Merchants Remove Stocks
In anticipation of an attack by Villistas, merchants in Juarez were moving their stocks of merchandise to the American side of the border. In one lot there were six thousand sacks of flour, which were shipped to Juarez only a few days ago, and another lot of 25 carloads of merchandise was ordered back to the American side this morning. Residents in the Mexican border town continue to leave their homes and are removing to the American side.

"I most certainly am going to work for some legislation to put a damper on the ever soaring high cost of living," said the senator. "I am going to work seriously and long on this problem. I cannot give out any advance statement as to what my course will be because at present I do not know. When I do know I will do everything I can. I believe in having rain with thunder."

The senator will leave for Washington on Sunday to be present at the opening of congress. He has spent the past two or three weeks on his farm.

"This has been the first opportunity I have had in years to spend a little time on the farm," said the senator. "It has been a complete rest for me and I am feeling fit as a fiddle."

FRIEND OF LOCAL CARMEN IS GONE—FRED FAY CALLED

Comes belated news of the death of a labor leader well known in La Crosse. Fred Fay, a member of the general executive board of the American Federation of Labor, died at his home in a Boston suburb, October 8.

Fay was one of the big figures of the 1909 street car strike in La Crosse. He was sent here by Mr. Gompers at the urgent request of John Rae, La Crosse organizer. He came at about the same time that Mr. Reeves, the secretary-treasurer, arrived, and Mr. Fay remained here until the agreement was reached, August 20. His judgment and experience were accounted of importance to the men.

While in La Crosse Mr. Fay made a large circle of friends and visited many trades unions, and his popularity in La Crosse still survives.

Mr. Fay had been a member of the executive board since 1902, but for nearly a year had been too ill for active work. Of him "Motorman and Conductor," a journal of the trade, says editorially:

"The impressive characteristics of Brother Fay were a strong sense of right, unswerving determination, sincere devotion and undying energy."

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can Tell when you
Darken Gray, Faded Hair
with Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking in one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Will there be Real Music in your home at Christmas?

There is no one so unmusical as to believe that a talking machine produces real music. At best, a talking machine, no matter how much it costs, no matter what artists make records for it, no matter what claims are made for it by its manufacturers, gives only a hollow imitation of the original music.

The NEW EDISON
is not a Talking Machine

This new invention of the world's greatest inventor is in no real sense a talking machine.

It represents more than two million dollars spent in research work by Mr. Edison.

It represents the achievement of his ambition to produce a musical instrument which recreates all forms of music so perfectly that the original cannot be distinguished from the Re-Creation.

By hundreds of tests, before hundreds of thousands of music lovers, it has been proved conclusively that when an artist sings—or plays—in comparison with the New Edison's Re-Creation of that artist's performance, it is impossible to distinguish the original from the Re-Creation.

The music critics of more than 200 of America's leading newspapers testify to this fact in the columns of their own papers. We shall be glad to show you what the critics say.

Hear this new Invention

Come to our store and let us give you a concert of Re-created music. Come at any time. You will always be welcome. There is no obligation to buy. We merely want you to hear what we consider the world's greatest musical instrument.

SYNOD HEAD TALKS SPRING GROVE IN RUSHFORD CHURCH BEATEN BY MABEL

RUSHFORD, Minn.—(Special).—A large congregation listened last Sunday morning to Rev. Harshaw, of Minneapolis, who filled the pulpit of the Presbyterian church at the usual hour of service. Rev. Harshaw is the Synodical Superintendent of Presbyterian work in Minnesota, or rather, the Synodical Missionary, successor to the late Rev. Adams. The speaker arranged his address under three heads. Range population, lumbermen and new settlers. The range population includes all those who reside upon the Mesas and Hibbing ranges, the lumbermen all who make up the 30,000 men who home for the winter months, is the pineries; the new settlers include all who reside in the northern-most part of our state. Clearcut, comprehensive and powerfully interesting in his delivery, Rev. Harshaw's talk seemed to take his listeners to each scene he depicted and left with all a new sense of responsibility and enthusiasm for their duties as citizens of this state, in relation to those whose narrow environment make possible so many advantages and privileges which we more fortunate ones take as a mere matter of course.

Thanksgiving Day
A Thanksgiving Day service was held in the Presbyterian church of this city at the usual service-hour, 10:30.
Word from the Lutheran hospital in La Crosse states that Mrs. Ensrud who submitted to an operation for goiter a week ago, is doing nicely. Mrs. William Brunner, who also was obliged to undergo the same kind of an operation on the same day, came back to her home near this city, on the Wednesday noon train. Mr. William Baerman, the third of the trio who went down together last week, expected to have his operation for goiter on Wednesday morning, last. Mrs. Baerman has been with him since last Saturday afternoon.
Alfred Berg and his sister, Miss Lily Berg, both of whom have been in Canada with relatives this summer, arrived home this week.
Mr. Peterson, the painter, has moved his family over into the Rottum residence in Brooklyn. The Petersons have for some time been occupying the Wilson sisters' residence in South Rushford.
The ladies of the Rushford Presbyterian church will give their annual chicken-pie supper next Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 5, at the church basement. They will also hold, at the same time, their usual Christmas sale of fancy work, etc., and will have on hand home-made candy for sale. The menu for the supper is: Chicken-pie, mashed potatoes, home-baked beans, cabbage salad, pickles, brown and white bread sandwiches, jelly, cake and coffee. The price per plate will be 35c for grown people and 25c for children. All are cordially invited to attend sale and supper.
Mr. Carlson, the instructor in agriculture in our city schools, is domiciled in the Amundson house west of the business part of the city.
A large and very talkative parrot, also two parakeets are attracting an interesting audience before the windows of the Central restaurant, the small boy and his sister, not to mention father and mother, finding the little creatures most interesting objects.

The Christmas program of the Presbyterian Sunday school will this year be held at the regular Sunday school hour, 11:45 a. m. instead of Christmas Eve, as usually observed. Much stress is being laid this year in this Sunday school on giving instead of receiving, therefore no Christmas tree will be had, unless for the very tiny folks. Gifts will be given to the poor in other cities.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

Well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

'Twas A ROUGH NIGHT IN NORWAY WHEN HENRY PAID

Being an Account of the Christmas Eve on Which One Small Norsk Village Had a Party

It is about a year ago this time that the United States of America and, in fact, the world at large, was roused by the slogan, "Out of the Trenches by Christmas." Just about a year ago that a ship was chartered, the ranks of professors, college students, suffragists and enthusiasts of all kinds combed for recruits, the perils of the ocean dared by a lofty idealist and his crusade in the cause for peace. The winter cruise ended in failure. It is almost forgotten now in the rush of weightier events. But every once in a while some unpublished story of that trip leaks out to charm the hearer.

And so it is related that on one occasion at least, the greater part of a Norwegian town had one on Henry. In fact, they had more than one; they had several. It happened in this fashion:

He Left the Purse

When the leading Peace Pilgrim took ship back to the land of Stars and Stripes, leaving others to take charge of his expedition, he left a purse behind him also to supply the wants of the party with the promise of more where the first came from if more was needed. The promise was not one to be sneered at and although all men are created free and equal before the law, they are not all gifted with an equal degree of honesty. Hence it was not surprising that the hospitality of that party was of the open-handed kind. When the cat away.

It was on Christmas Eve that the strict temperance of the party had been broken by the pop of champagne cork in the midst of a sad and reminiscent after-dinner speech. After that, the prohibitionists were not always at home. But matters reached a climax one night in the tap-room of a little Norwegian hotel.

Through the smoke and the general uproar, a voice made itself heard.

The Come-All-Ye

"Gentlemen," is drunk, in honeyed accents, "all the drinks tonight are to be charged to the account of Henry Ford, whether they are ordered by members of the party or not. Every one in this room is to consider himself a guest of the American peace advocate."

Presto, change! The room may have been quiet before. It instantly became belam. There was a rush on the bar. The bartenders on their busiest night had never done such a business. But where did all the people come from? Surely they had not been there at the moment the American had made his effective little speech. Men seemed to have sprung up from the ground by some sort of subtle magic. All the oldest inhabitants of the town, who turned out only on the most special of special occasions were there. So were the town tramps, the town bums, the town officials, in fact most of the able-bodied men of military age and others besides. Everybody short of the inmates of the jail and the insane asylum, and perhaps they were there too. Who knows?

The secret of the general onslaught? Merely town spirit. No one wanted to miss out on the great event, of which the news had spread like wildfire. So Borg hurried out to get Sigurd, and Sigurd passed the word on to Thorvald, and Thorvald brought Olaf with him to the appointed place. The sight would have done Mr. Ford's heart good. That Norwegian town enjoyed one good night at the expense of the American from Detroit and it would not be surprising if a grateful people raised him a statue in the public square.

But history does not say what the business man, Henry Ford, thought when he saw the bill for that. It was something like $375.00; merely an incidental, of course—merely an incidental.

MARY PICKFORD IN "LESS THAN DUST"

Manager F. L. Koppelberger of the La Crosse theater, announces for next week an engagement extraordinary in the first appearance as an independent star of the most famous motion picture actress of them all, Mary Pickford. Her newest and most elaborate play of her long career is called "Less Than the Dust," and was written especially for her by Hector Turnbull, whose name on a manuscript is complete evidence of superlative merit. He credits his inspiration for the story of "Less Than the Dust" to a poem of the same name written by Laurence Hope. As developed and elaborated the play tells the story of a little English castaway who is living in India, practically an outcast and regarded by the natives as actually "less than the dust" which they stir up as they walk. In her conception of the heroine Miss Pickford takes full advantage of the opportunities offered for the display of the whole run of emotions from tear-compelling characterization to the well known ability of the little star for extracting clean and wholesome fun from the situations provided by the author.

"Less Than the Dust" contains many really big scenes, many of which are furnished by an uprising of the natives against England. A complete city was erected for the filming of these scenes, hundreds of extra people were employed and various zoological exhibits were ransacked for the rare animals required to convey the necessary atmosphere. "Less Than the Dust" will appear at the La Crosse theater Monday and the three days following.

Irregularity in the general list developed around noon.

Rails increased their gains during the afternoon and several gas company stocks shot upward. Ohio Cities Gas led this group with a 14 point gain to 118 1/2.

Marine issues were weak and the general list was irregular.

Announcement just before the market closed, that the Morgan & Company would not issue the allied government exchequer bills, caused a five minute rush at the close.

After some confusion, advances of one to three points by speculative leaders were general.

BROWN SMOTHERED UNDER SCORE OF 28-0 BY COLGATE

Conquerors of Harvard and Yale
No Match for the New Yorkers; Pollard
Smothered

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 1.—Colgate overwhelmed the much-heralded Brown eleven here on Thursday, 28 to 0. The Brunonians were powerless against the shifty driving Maroon attack, which swept down the field, despite ankle deep mud and a steady downpour of rain. At every department of the game the brilliant Hamilton eleven outlasted the Browns. The Maroon attack slid off tackle for successive first downs, the Brown linesmen being easily boxed. Pollard, the dusky brown star, failed to shine, and was smothered every time he took the ball.

The first Colgate touchdown came within five minutes after the whistle blew starting the game and from then on Colgate persistently threatened the Brown goal.

Anderson, Gillo, Spencer, West and Hubbell, who punted for Colgate, starred for the winners, while Hillhouse's punting was the one redeeming feature of the Brunonians playing.

Hank Gillo, the Milwaukee boy who starred for the Colgate eleven, is a high school graduate of South Division, going to the university a few years ago.

EDGERTON COPS STATE TITLE WITH VICTORY OVER RED AND BLACK

Might-have-been Stuff

With no wish to detract from the glory due the wonderful football machine of the Edgerton high school, it was obvious to every one in the stands at the Thanksgiving Day game that the Tobaccotown boys got "the breaks." It is one of the hazards of football, to be accepted as part of the game, that luck plays no small part in the outcome of many contests. Had fortune smiled at opportunity times on La Crosse, as she did on Edgerton, it is possible that the state title would have remained in the city.

For instance, Feinberg, plucky little quarterback of the high school, was laid out in the first scrimmage, for the rest of the half he played in something like a daze. His usual alert comprehension and quick analysis of difficult situations was not there. Moreover, he was so badly hurt that Youngberg, who had not been kicking all year, had to handle the booting duty—and it was blocking Youngberg's punt which gave Edgerton its chance to score. Youngberg couldn't get them away as quickly as Feinberg, and the second longer it took for him to swing on the ball sufficed for the Edgerton linemen to get in his path.

Then there was that pass across the goal line in the third quarter, when a La Crosse man caught the ball just as it touched the ground. Had he been one step closer when he swept it up, it would have been a touch down. Had it been second or even third down, the ball would have been brought back for another attempt. But it was fourth down, and the ball went to Edgerton, and was promptly kicked out of danger, nullifying a splendid march down the field in which the Bellboys punched Edgerton's lines as fill of holes as a sieve.

Also, it is worth noticing that whenever La Crosse was near to threaten the Edgerton goal, the ball was so close to the sidelines that big "Wop" Blattler, the only consistent ground-gainer on the Red and Black team, couldn't be used for one of his tearing dashes around the right wing. All of which is "might have been" stuff. It was tough luck—but Edgerton was the fightiest bunch of berserkers that has appeared here in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, and it would have been anybody's game if the breaks had been the other way.

COPELAND PLAYER BREAKS LEG WHEN HIGH SECONDS WIN

Bud Bartheld, playing right end for the Copeland Park All Stars, broke his left leg in the football game with the La Crosse High School second team on the high school practice field Thanksgiving morning. The Copeland men were walloped 12 to 6 by the "Varsity." The accident occurred late in the last quarter on the kickoff. Bud received the ball and was hit simultaneously by a man from each side and by one in front. The bones snapped near the ankle. He was attended on the field and taken to his home.

The game was hard fought and the Varsity deserved to win. Although overweighed, they had the edge on their heavier opponents. Burroughs and Rowilson scored the touchdowns.

STECHER BEATS CUTLER AND HAS TIGHTER HOLD ON HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Joe Stecher's title to the heavyweight wrestling championship is nailed down tighter following his defeat of Charlie Cutler here Thursday night.

Stecher's deadly scissors hold won both falls for him the first in 19:40, the second in 7:24. Cutler did not wait for his shoulders to be pinned to the mat a second time and when Stecher began to squeeze down with the scissors, Cutler called to the referee that he was ready to quit. He called three times when the official failed to hear him and Stecher, who was still clamping his victim down, repeated Cutler's call and the referee announced the fall.

"I had to quit or let him break my arm," Cutler said as he hung cramped with pain on the ropes. "This boy is the greatest wrestler the world ever saw. He's a better man than I and I am willing to say it. When he scissored me I was beaten and you've got to hand it to him." Cutler put up a hard scrap and never shirked in the bout.

LOCALS PLAINLY OUTPLAYED BY TOBACCO RAISERS

Blatter and Layman Only La Crosse Men to Gain Consistently Against Warriors from South

BREAKS TO EDGERTON

Only Score of Game Comes in Second Quarter a Few Minutes After La Crosse Punt Was Blocked

Edgerton high school won the championship of Wisconsin Thursday afternoon by defeating the red and black 7 to 0 in the hardest fought game ever seen on the local gridiron. La Crosse put up a wonderful fight and threatened to score many times during the last half but always some one thing or another went wrong and when the whistle blew they were on the short end of the score.

Gilt-edged interference, probably more than any other factor, was responsible for the Edgerton victory. Time and again, safely pocketed in a phalanx, the Edgerton backs carried the ball for big gains. The La Crosse lines, especially in the first half, was torn to shreds, with resultant gains of from one yard to first down for the visitors.

The Tobacco City men also excelled in the aerial game, forward passes being consistently successful. A crowd of 3,000, one of the greatest crowds ever attending a game here, witnessed the game, filling both bleachers and a part of the extra benches which had been set up near the side lines to take care of the overflow. Three hundred rooters for the Tobacco city boys were there, coming from Edgerton, Janesville, Stoughton, Madison and Sparta.

Williams Star
The two teams were evenly matched in weight, but Edgerton had the advantage in the charge coming on with speed that made it look like a university team. The line held well, and the backfield was well balanced, Captain Williams was easily the star of the game, hitting the line with tremendous force and running the ends like a ten second man. He was ably supported by Curran, Clark and Ogden. He got off his punts well, too, outpunting Feinberg from ten to fifteen yards each time.

Blatter Plays Great Game
The La Crosse team played the game of their life in the second half, but in the first, they could not get going. Big R. Blatter was the only consistent gainer, making five yards at a try. Layman also starred, advancing the ball around the ends whenever called upon.

R. Blatter, Lisovec, Bleakley, Bunge, Argall, Feinberg, Layman, Youngberg, Schick and Captain Spettel played their last game for the high school, as they graduate either in June or summer school, but Schick, Lisovec and Bleakley have intimated that they will not go to summer school but come back again next year and play with the team.

Edgerton Gets Jump
The game resembled the Illinois-Minnesota game in some particulars. Edgerton came on the field, shot her bolt, rushed La Crosse off the field in the first half, scoring her only touchdown in the second quarter. La Crosse came back with vengeance in the last half, and played like Trojans, but it was too late.

Coach Bell's warriors won the toss to defend the south goal. Rossebo kicked off to Layman, who returned the pigskin to the thirty-two yard mark. After a few small gains, R. Blatter ran thirty yards, carrying the ball well into the enemy's territory. Here three plays gained but one yard. The reason that La Crosse could not gain consistently was that Edgerton's secondary defense excelled any that the boys had ever seen; although they penetrate the line, it was impossible to get Williams and Ogden, who grabbed them and threw them back as soon as they tried to go through a hole. Regret went back to try for a drop kick, but the pass was bad and he fumbled the ball. He picked it up again and got his kick-off but without any sense of direction.

Punt Blocked, Then Score
Edgerton came back with a rush and gained twenty yards on line plunges before they were forced to punt. Feinberg returned the punt to his forty yard line. An exchange of punts netted Edgerton ten yards. They worked the ball down to the red and black thirty-five yard line where Lisovec intercepted a forward pass. The quarter ended with the ball in La Crosse's possession on her thirty-five yard line. Youngberg went back to punt but Kellogg blocked the ball and the big fullback barely recovered it on the ten yard line. Feinberg punted out of danger. Edgerton started rushing again, making their downs by only one foot. Then Clark ran around end from the fifteen yard line for a touchdown but the ball was called back and Edgerton penalized for off side play. Feinberg intercepted a forward pass and punted out of danger. Ogden ran the ball thirty yards to the five yard line, and from there Williams went over for the only touchdown of the game. Rossebo kicked goal.

Edgerton was headed for another touchdown but lost the ball on downs on the red and black twenty yard line as the whistle blew.

In the second half, the Bellboys came back and displayed all their fight and tricks but neither could tie the score for them. Gaining possession of the ball on the ten yard line, when a drop kick went short of the goal posts, the boys carried it back into the red and white territory where it remained almost continuously for the rest of the game. Long runs by Regt, R. Blatter and Layman took the pig skin to the twenty-five yard line. Here Feinberg caught a pass and ran to the ten yard stripe on a trick play. An incomplete pass over the goal line gave the ball to the Tobacco city team. The quarter ended with the ball in the enemy's possession on her thirteen yard mark.

Last Period Heart Breaker
The last quarter was a heart breaker for the red and black. Time and again, Captain Spettel's men took the ball to the ten or fifteen yard mark only to lose it on downs. With about two minutes to play, Captain Spettel made first down and then ran to the fifteen yard mark in an effort to win the game for his team, but his efforts were in vain as here a stone-wall was encountered. The whistle blew with the ball on Edgerton's forty yard line in La Crosse's possession.

Lineup:
La Crosse—Regt, left end; R. Blatter, left tackle; Lisovec, Schick, left guard; Bleakley, center; Bunge, right guard; E. Blatter, right tackle; Rippe, right end; Feinberg, quarter-back; Layman, left halfback; Youngberg, Spettel, fullback; Pratt, right halfback.

DIAMONDS of Quality.

Be absolutely sure of the quality of the Diamond you buy without having to pay for that assurance more than a reasonable profit.

Irvine's, 429 Main St.

A Diamond of Quality for every Purse.

"That's just what I've always wished a cigarette would do
—satisfy!"

The feature of Chesterfields is that they begin where other cigarettes leave off.

In other words, besides pleasing the taste, Chesterfields go further—they satisfy! Just like a long drink of cold water satisfies when you're thirsty.

And yet, Chesterfields are MILD!

It's Chesterfields or nothing if you want this new cigarette delight, because no cigarette maker can copy the Chesterfield blend—an entirely new combination of tobaccos and the biggest discovery in cigarette blending in 20 years.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

"Give me a package of those cigarettes that SATISFY!"
